

Trip Advisor Expands Spa Content

Spas of America provides 'Expert Guidebook' Spa Listings

(Los Angeles, California) August 13, 2007 — Spas of America, a leading spa travel website showcasing the best Spa & Wellness experiences in North and South America, today announced their premium Member listings will be featured on Trip Advisor as 'Expert Guidebooks'.

“Trip Advisor is one of the most popular and valued resources on the Internet for travel consumers.” says Spas of America president and founder Craig Oliver. “Spas of America is proud to provide our content to Trip Advisor customers.” Under the new arrangement, Spas of America’s premium Member listings will be showcased as 'Expert Guidebooks' under each applicable spa property listing. Spas of America’s listings include up to ten dynamic images, an integrated Google map and a 300-word professionally edited description including contact details, nearest airport, travel directions, spa, signature treatments, accommodations and awards.

Oliver says, “This is a great opportunity for our spa partners to position themselves in front of the largest travel community in the world, with nearly 22 million monthly visitors.”
